MUSEUM

LAVA

— femenin noun

Magma emanating from volcanoes and other vents any extrusive igneous rock formed by the cooling and solidification of molten lava.

— origin

1740–50; Italian, orig. Neapolitan dialect: avalanche. Latin “labes” a sliding down, falling, akin to “labi” to slide.

— nombre femenino

Material magmático fundido que expulsa un volcán o la erupción de una fisura volcánica sobre la superficie terrestre donde se enfía y solidifica.

— origen

Préstamo (s. XIX) del italiano lava, de origen napolitano y siciliano, y este del latín labes “caída”, derivado de labi “caer”, “deslizarse”.
